GOP Congress Needed, He Says

Fears A 'Cold War' In Politics Would Block Goals

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday night made another fighting appeal for election of a Republican Congress and envisioned "a cold war of partisan politics" running riot if the Democrats recapture control of the legislative branch.

Addressing a nationwide television-radio audience and an approval-hoisting capacity crowd of 5,500 at a GOP rally in Denver's Municipal Auditorium, the President declared the nation could wind up only "in the ditch" with a Republican driver in the White House and Democrats steering congress.

The chief executive said American voters "got results" they wanted by electing a Republican President and a GOP-led Congress two years ago. And he appealed for maintaining the same "partnership" two more years so his program can be completed.

GOP congressional leaders and Colorado candidates were on the auditorium stage with Eisenhower to hear his warm praise of the work of the Republican 83rd Congress.

Introduced by Nixon Vice President Nixon introduced Eisenhower to what he called "without doubt the greatest political rally ever held in America."

The President got a roaring standing ovation and the audience raised hundreds of signs declaring "We're backing Ike" as he stood at the rostrum with arms outstretched above his head.

The President got a burst of applause when he declared that American voters, in 1952, were determined "to eliminate penetration by the Communist conspiracy in our government and in our whole society," and "did not consider that menace a Red herring."

That was an indirect swat at the Truman administration's handling of the subversion problem.

Shot In Arm

Congressional leaders and other members of the party's high command were banking on the President's address to provide what they have termed "a shot in the arm" to GOP chances in the November Senate and House elections. Some of the leaders have confided privately they are worried about the outcome, although they talk publicly with restrained optimism.

Eisenhower's speech Friday night was a fighting one measured by the yardstick of the kind of campaign he has been carrying on. He stuck by his hard and fast policy of not dealing in personalities and he made no specific mention of Democrats.

Highway Lending Agency Proposed

Spending Of $100 Billion Now Urged

... Over 10-Year Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—Powerful backing developed Friday for a move to set up a special federal agency to finance a 100 billion dollar highway improvement program over the next 10 years.

The move appeared to have gained momentum at a two-day hearing held by a presidential committee created to turn up ways of meeting Eisenhower's proposal to double highway expenditures in the next decade.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of the committee, said his group was giving "serious consideration" to the setting up of a special lending agency along the line of the old Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The American Trucking Assn. gave strong support to the idea, suggesting that the proposed agency work as "a central banking arrangement" to supply funds for states in carrying out a massive long-range highway building program.

Want Uncle Sam To Do It

The truckers joined Mayor A. E. Cobo of Detroit and the National Assn. of State Highway Officials in calling on the federal government to assume full responsibility for a special 20 billion dollar program to overhaul the network of interstate highways.

Ike Scores 'Cold War'

Democrats were his target when he declared, for example, that his administration and the 83rd Congress have dealt "decisively with the Communist menace" at home. That got a hand.

The direction his dart was aimed was clear, too, when he asserted the present administration has "an honest, forthright foreign policy concerned with deeds not words."

One of the biggest rounds of applause came when the President declared that "For the first time in 20 years there is no active battle front anywhere in the world."

Eisenhower cautioned against what he termed the dangers of a politically divided government, with the White House Republican and Congress under "Democratic control."

Single Driver Needed

"You know perfectly well," he said, "that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end up anywhere but in the ditch—especially when the drivers are set on going in the opposite direction."

The President was interrupted at least 42 times during his speech by applause.

He got another standing ovation at the end of his speech as he stood at the rostrum with congressional leaders and Colorado Republican candidates.

Eisenhower's address Friday night was patterned in large part after the fighting speech he made Sept. 23 in Los Angeles' Hollywood Bowl.

"You cannot have efficient federal government when the Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another," the President declared.

Gen. Clay, center, with other members of the presidential committee created to turn up ways of meeting Eisenhower's proposal to double highway expenditures in the next decade.

Woman Pleads Not Guilty To Charges Of Abortion Try

Mrs. Cary Giffen Duncan, 23, of 3228 Vine, pleaded not guilty Friday in Lancaster County Court to a charge of attempt to commit abortion.

Judge Herbert Ronin ordered Mrs. Duncan bound over to District Court under $1,000 bond after she waived preliminary hearing on the complaint filed by County Attorney Frederick Wagener.

Mrs. Duncan posted bond and was released from the county jail, where she had been held since Tuesday during investigation of the case.

Helped In Court

Mrs. Duncan, who uses a cane in walking, was also aided in the courtroom by court officers. She told the court she had lived in Lincoln since 1936.

The complaint charged that Mrs. Duncan did unlawfully use an instrument upon one "Marion Van-

Lewis Pryor Dies, Lincoln Painter

Lewis Pryor, 64, 627 So. 11th, a painter, died Friday at his home.

Born in Fairbury, he had lived here about 25 years. He belonged to the Painters Union.

Surviving are his wife, Hulda; a stepson, Lyle Long of Lincoln; brothers, Jesse W. Pryor of Omaha and Britt Pryor of Lincoln, and half sisters, Mrs. Opal Stuck of Oregon and Mrs. Grace Dull of Nelson.

Mrs. E. J. Lewis Dies In Lincoln

Mrs. Emily J. Lewis, 88, died at a local hospital Friday evening.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Stella Hungerford of Dodge City, Kan.; a son, Fred Hardy of San Diego, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Flossie Wemple of Palmyra; two brothers, George and William Lanning of Palmyra; seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Coffey Asks Name Removal From Ballot

Sen. Tom Coffey of Alma filed a request with the Secretary of State to have his name removed from the general election ballot. He is the incumbent legislator from the 33rd district having served one term.

The Secretary of State's office said his name would have to remain on the ballot as the deadline for withdrawals was last Monday.

Sen. Coffey and the certified ballot for candidates has already been printed.

Coffey explained that because of his health he will be unable to campaign. He said he had just returned from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., where he had been under treatment for two weeks and that he plans to return for further treatment.

The Alma senator said his illness has been diagnosed as Tic Dauralauraux. He is a truck line operator.

Don Thompson, McCook, is the other candidate for the office.

Mrs. Apolius New District 6 Head

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Theodore Apolius of Ogallala was elected president of District 6 Nebraska Federated Women's Clubs in the closing 1954 convention session here.

Other new officers chosen were: Mrs. David Harshfield of Chadron, first vice president; Mrs. Milton Neff of Lexington, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Martens of Atkinson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Robert Spooner of Sargent, treasurer.

Installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. F. H. Barnore of Lexington, state PWC president, following a luncheon in the Methodist Church.

Mrs. M. Vance, retiring president, conducted the sessions Thursday and Friday.

Glenn Obert, Polio Patient, Improved

The condition of Glenn E. Obert, 30, 330 So. 24th, a polio patient, was improved Friday, County Polio Chairman Morris Siegel said.

Obert has been in serious condition in an iron lung since he was admitted to Lincoln General hospital earlier in the week.

Mrs. Adams Dies

Mrs. Nell Adams, 61, 1241 G. St., died early Saturday morning at a local hospital. She had been hospitalized for a short time.

Oil Business Discussed

Continental Oil Will Double Lincoln Division Stations

The president of the Continental Oil Company, L. F. McCollum, says that his company has such confidence in midwest prosperity that plans call for doubling the number of filling stations in the Lincoln division.

In the next five years, he said, "we anticipate building 171 new stations" in Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Iowa (Lincoln division).

McCollum is in Lincoln to look over the marketing operations of the company in the northern region and Lincoln division.

The Texas oilman met with a group of Lincoln businessmen Friday night at the Cornhusker Hotel at a refreshment hour and dinner staged by the oil company.

"We built 44 new stations in 1954 in this division alone," he said.

"The payroll in this division is one million dollars annually," the oil president said.

Newton Smith, 68, Former Ballplayer, Dies In Lincoln

Newton H. Smith, 68, of 1826 C St., a former professional baseball player, died at a Lincoln hospital late Friday.

Mr. Smith played at one time with the old Western League. He was born in 1886 in Blue Hill, Neb., and had lived in Lincoln since 1923. He was a member of the Methodist Church in Blue Hill.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Florence Burgher of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Nettie Pohlenz of Lincoln, and a brother Roy of Lincoln.

Youth Held In Slaying Of Baby And Sitter, 14

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth, who was a pallbearer at her funeral, was taken into custody Friday in connection with the savage knife slaying of baby-sitter Lynn Ann Smith and her four-year-old boy charge.

Dist. Atty. Stephen A. Moynahan said Kenneth Chapin, who lives around the corner from the slain girl, "has given us a statement definitely implicating him" in the Sept. 25 slaying.

Moynahan said the youth will be arraigned Saturday on a murder charge.

The district attorney declined to discuss the motive for the brutal slayings or details of the alleged statement. He said young Chapin was picked up as the result of a "house-to-house check" Friday.

Investigators said a bayonet was used in the slayings.

Young Chapin, son of an electrician at the U.S. army in Springfield, was described by his teachers as an "average student" at Technical High School. Teachers said he has not missed a school day since the slayings.

The youth's sister Beverly was described as a good friend of the slain girl. Friends said the two girls had planned to attend Emmanuel Congregational Church together the morning after the tragedy.

KENNETH CHAPIN

The bodies of Lynn Ann, 14, and little Stephen Goldberg were found in the Goldberg apartment by the boy's parents, upon returning from a movie.

Lynn Ann, stabbed 34 times and her neck broken, was found in a pool of blood in the apartment hallway. Her bruised wrists indicated she had struggled with her slayer. She was not attacked sexually.

'State REA Stands United' With National Organization

BAYARD, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska's REA's stand firmly in the ranks of a staunch REA front across the nation, Sumner Burnham, president of the Chimney Rock Public Power District, said.

Burnham's statement came in answer to Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) of Kimball who at Scottsbluff said Nebraska REA's "don't go along with that Washington group."

Miller was referring to the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, of which he said: "They say I voted with their thinking only nine times out of 27."

Miller Misinformed

"When Congressman Miller states the REA groups in Nebraska do not go along with the NRECA he has been misinformed," Burnham stated. He added:

"I think the reason some senators and congressmen do not like NRECA is that the board of directors of NRECA voted to send the voting records of all senators and congressmen to all REA projects.

"Some of the Nebraska senators and congressmen voted favorably for public power in Nebraska and against it in other states. If we did not have NRECA to fight our battles in Washington, public power would not last long."

The Bayard man said officers of his district hope to arrange a conference with Rep. A. L. Miller of Kimball at which they will tell him that the district is in accord with the NRECA.

Burnham said the NRECA came into being after private power interests which refused to accept REA loans for rural lines began to buck public power interests which he said organized to give the farmer electricity.

Refund May Be In Sight For Local Gas Customers

Court Orders $7,641,993
Return For Distributors

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln natural gas customers are expected to receive a refund on past bills as the result of a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals order to Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha to return $7,641,993 to 27 distributors in several mid-western states.

The refund, to be returned to distributors within 15 days, is money Northern collected on a rate it placed in effect under a stay order of the court in December of 1952. The court ordered the stay and suspension of a previous order of the Federal Power Commission which denied the higher rate.

"Northern Natural was allowed to continue to collect money, with a provision that it must be returned with 6 per cent interest to the various companies if the court ruled with the FPC against the company.

No Copy Yet

Of the total refund, The Associated Press reported that $931,707 will go to Central Electric and Gas Co. of Lincoln. Company officials reported they had not yet received a copy of the court order and, therefore, could not determine yet the full meaning of the refund or exactly what it would mean to Lincoln users.

It was noted, however, that if the entire $931,707 is to be refunded, it would split up among Central's customers in the 33 communities it serves. There would also be a split between residential or firm and industrial or inter-uptable customers.

Central Vice President E. C. Deane stated that "we are very happy that this money is going back to our customers. Just as soon as we receive the court order and make our analysis, all the town's involved will be notified of the amounts to be refunded customers."

Deane stated that the order will mean no change in existing gas rates. The rates, he said, have already been established and this is just the settlement of the excess charged by Northern.

Costs Prohibitive

The Associated Press report stated that the distributors, Central and other, must refund money only to persons who were customers during the stay order period and are still customers. The court said the cost of locating the others would be prohibitive because of the small amounts due them.

Besides Central, other distributors directed by the court to make direct refunds to customers and the amount to be received from Northern for refunding are Central Natural Power Co., $105,768; Iowa Public Service Co., $371,175; Minneapolis Gas Co., $2,025,319; Minnesota Natural Gas Co., $51,117; Nebraska Natural Gas Co. of Fremont, $83,211; Northwestern Light and Power Co., $21,285; and Western States Utilities Co., $43,049.

Eight of the distributors, three of them in Nebraska, are municipal corporations or municipalities and aren't required to refund money to customers because, the court said, it will be retained for their benefit. The amounts to be received from Northern by the Nebraska group are Metropolitan Utilities District, Omaha, $648,122; Ponca, $3,311; and Pender $5,189.

Gospel Is Topic Of Elder's Talk

Elder Jere D. Smith will speak on "Objectives of the Gospel" at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Lincoln Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 1020 So. 15th.

Surviving are her sons, Marcus and Clarence, both of Lincoln, and H. Geoffrey of Bedford, Ia.; a daughter, Dorothy Fay of Lincoln; brothers, Paul Hayes of Afion, Ia., and Ralph Hayes of Wasta, S. D.; and a sister, Mrs. L. J. Ferron of Daly City, Calif.

Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Dixon-Yates Power Plan Sidetracked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's plan for the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for private power in the TVA area was sidetracked again Friday, until after the Nov. 2 elections.

This is the second controversy which has now been laid aside until the campaigns are over, the other one being the question of whether the Senate shall censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee had set a tentative Oct. 13 date for beginning hearings on the proposed AEC contract, with the Dixon-Yates utility group. Nov. 4 is now the suggested date.

Only 2 Or 3

However, Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who will preside, said only two or three of the 18 committee-men could be here Oct. 13 and it was decided to wait until there was a majority on hand.

Hickenlooper and Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), regular chairman of the committee, sent out this telegram to members:

"Overwhelming number of committee members find it impossible to participate in any hearing on the Dixon-Yates contract this month due to their own campaign responsibilities.

Christian Sommer Dies; Former State Accountant

Christian A. Sommer, 88, 1710 Harwood, a Lincoln resident since 1888, died Friday.

Born in Flensburg, Germany, he was advertising manager of the Freie Press when he first came to Lincoln.

A former state accountant, he was appointed to the post by Gov. Sam McKelvie and served under Gov. Charles Bryan.

Mr. Sommer was a member of All Souls Unitarian Church. Surviving are his daughters, Mrs. Martha Sinclair of Evansville, Wis., and Mrs. Elsa K. Lewis of Lincoln; a son, Mark of Los Angeles; three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Sleuth Explains Thievery Types

Mrs. Eloise Burton, special investigator for the Lincoln Police Department, discussed the ways of shoplifters and purse snatchers in an address at the American Legion Auxiliary membership tea at the 40 et 8 clubrooms.

Guest at the tea was Mrs. Daniel Moser of Hickman, district president.

Mrs. Guy Parsell, Americanism chairman, announced that Boys' and Girls' County Government Day will be Dec. 1. Flags will also be distributed to polling places without them.

Mrs. Mary McVicker, department secretary-treasurer, discussed membership requirements.

Kensington will be held at the home of Mrs. C. J. Rogers at 405 No. 25th on Friday, Oct. 15, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Green Resigns Post As Director Of MUD

OMAHA (AP)—James F. Green resigned as a director of the Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha, leaving the post because of his candidacy for the U.S. Senate. He was elected to the board in November of 1952 for a six year term.

Insurance Forum Told Need Of Cooperation, Citizenship

Three basic needs, both small and large business, industry-wide cooperation and corporate citizenship, were advocated in an address by Carl N. Jacobs before the Nebraska Insurance Institute.

President of the Hardware Mutual Insurance Companies, Jacobs spoke at the institute banquet at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Both large and small businesses, he said, have their place in the nation's economy and their service to perform for the public.

Competition Essential

Jacobs asserted that while free competition was an essential to business, that industry-wide cooperation is needed to solve the insurance industry's problems and to show the buyer that the insurance industry is interested in the public welfare.

Recognition of the need for good corporate citizenship is a must, Jacobs told the group, if any company, large or small, is to have good public relations. He advised the insurance men to enter actively into community affairs and if they were employers, to urge their employees to take an active community interest.

The third biennial institute, sponsored by the University of Nebraska college business administration and the Insurance Federation of Nebraska, also heard A. L. Kirkpatrick, manager, insurance department, U.S. Chamber of Commerce, attack the current social security program.

Kirkpatrick asserted that "at no time since the passage of the (Social Security) law in 1935 has Congress given adequate consideration to any study of what the law should do, what it has accomplished and where it is leading us."

"The 1954 amendments continue the building up process which has been going on for the last seventeen years without a soul-searching review."

The U.S. Chamber official said the present system means benefits to the taxpayers of today paid for by tomorrow's taxpayers. If carried to its ultimate goal, the goal he asserted was pushed for

Casual Salute

BONN (INS)—From now on, uniformed West German letter carriers must salute their superiors—"but in a casual manner." The federal post ministry has issued this description of the mailmen's salute: "It will be effected by raising the right hand to the trail-edge of the cap, but in a casual manner."

Station Safe Cracked; $280 Reported Lost

Safe-crackers obtained nearly $280 after chiseling and prying off the bottom of a tubular safe in the basement of Miller's Service Station at 320 West O.

Owner Abbe H. Miller of 3124 F said an electric drill, sledge hammer, and other tools found in the station were used to open the safe.

An unlocked safe upstairs, which contained only papers, was rifled and the papers strewn on the station floor.

The burglary was discovered when Miller opened the station early Friday morning. The station had closed at 11 p.m. Thursday.

Dep. Sheriff Frank Jacox said entrance to the building was gained through the men's restroom after the screen was pried off and the window opened by breaking its latch.

Miller said the basement safe contained three bank sacks with $164.32 in station money, $60 used for change, and $55.64 in cafe money.

Apparently only money was taken, Miller said.

Peurifoy Warns Red Menace To South Persists

WASHINGTON (AP)—John E. Peurifoy, former U.S. ambassador to Guatemala, reported Friday that Kremlin-controlled Communists still pose "a very real menace," to Latin America despite their loss of Guatemala.

He said Guatemala, now under an Anti-Communist regime after last June's revolution, was the first target in a Red conspiracy to gobble up Guatemala's "peaceful and vulnerable neighbors."

"The loss of Guatemala represents a serious setback to the Kremlin, not a final defeat," he told a special House subcommittee which is investigating communism in Latin America.

"The Red conspiracy... has not been completely crushed."

Peurifoy is here en route to his new post as ambassador to Thailand.

Chairman Hillings (R-Calif) said the subcommittee would resume hearings in Los Angeles Oct. 14.

Auspicious Beginning

Overseas in Western Europe the skies continued to brighten.

West Germany's strong man, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Thursday night had his overwhelming approval from his parliament for his policy of bringing a re-armed West Germany into the Western alliance. Whatever may have been Molotov's inner reflections, outwardly at least Soviet Russia's foreign minister knew that the West Germans did not fall for his bait.

There was other good news.

When this was written French Premier Mendes-France faced answering a lot of questions from his parliamentary associates but the atmosphere suggested that the French leader might win his fight. Mendes-France is in a different role than he occupied when the European Defense Community treaty was under fire from powerful elements within the French Assembly. He played it safe. The rejection of the EDC treaty was due as much to a lack of actual militant French support on the part of the government as it was to the opposition of critical French elements.

The new Western alliance has Mendes-France approval. And that could be the determining factor.

When it gets down to actual details there are many road blocks to be overcome. German rearmament, limited though it is, and under supervision will continue to disturb elements within France.

In the last analysis it may get down to the simple question that this is it, and in the realization within France that it is a matter of fishing or cutting bait, a more sobering attitude may prove a mighty ally.

For the time being it is not too much to say that things look better.

New Spirit Of Thrift

There are some things which are cheering and which deserve notice above the clamor that is a part of today's daily life in America.

One, peering out from the news columns inconspicuously, is that savings as reflected in bank statements nation-wide, on the basis of a federal reserve bank report, are up $5 billion over a year ago. This represents the largest dollar gain in savings in any 12 month period since the war.

It comes in spite of mounting unemployment, a slackening of business in some fields, an admittedly decreased farm income, and a loss in take-home pay in industries previously operating on overtime schedules in order to catch up with huge backlogs of orders. It is not generally shared, we admit.

In thousands of individual cases the enhanced savings simply are not there.

Instead families find themselves slipping back instead of moving ahead.

The argument could last all night over whether this is an individual problem in which prudence, or the sense of thrift was not practiced.

But obviously a great many people must be giving greater thought to the practice of thrift. They have become convinced that the course of wisdom is self-denial if necessary in order to put something away for the proverbial rainy day.

And thrift, in the best sense, is to be highly commended, not only now, but always.

It is not as simple as it may seem, this business of spending just a little bit less than one makes. Relatively untouched in current controversy is the necessity of a high volume of business in America. In a few years, or many, there is the basis of doubts that America can shift from an inflated artificial economy to something substantially less and effect the transition safely. One single item should suffice to point out the difficulty. The debt service on Uncle Sam's outstanding debt today is edging towards the $8 billion mark. That in itself is very grim evidence of economic requirements in America. If it spells anything it adds up to full employment at satisfactory wages, continued industrial and agricultural prosperity. The one responsibility which confronts not only this but every administration is the delicacy involved in meeting the challenge of inflation.

Of Men And Things

About this time of year the public may expect to gaze upon the perfect portrait of a stupid partisan, spewing words all over the landscape.

Nebraskans, who read or listen, were not without the opportunity to gaze upon the profile of one of their own, Rep. Carl Curtis, who for no reason or some reason known only to himself, seems to have worked himself up to a pitch where the news columns reported him uttering these silly words: After referring to the recall of Gen. MacArthur who he said "was the target of all the pinks, punks and Communists in the Democratic party," continued on to insist that "today those same pinks, punks and Communies are controlling the Democratic party, preaching gloom, stirring up farm unrest and misrepresenting the splendid record of the Republican party." Now that language is not in character with Carl Curtis. He is such a friendly little guy, with a warm greeting, a handshake, a pat on the back for every potential voter. Mr. Curtis at all times except in the hysteria of campaign years rates a top grade for genuine companionability. If at times in deep emotion he seems to explode until his partisanship knows no limitations, then it should be remembered he is a candidate for a seat in the United States Senate.

We assume that Mr. Curtis is intelligent enough to know that out among the people on the farms there is bewilderment, confusion, and in thousands of individual cases real resentment over changes that have taken place in the agricultural picture. Mr. Curtis would have nothing to worry about, nothing to concern him, if that were not true.

He has been in Washington 16 years, eight terms in the House, and that may justify him in coming to the conclusion that he is the source of all wisdom, or that anyone who disagrees with him, either those who live on the farm or in the cities, are out of bounds. But the right to dissent in this country is a sacred one. And the right to disagree is entitled to recognition without meriting the abuse which he heaps upon opposition. We doubt if Mr. Curtis would be happy with the experience which befell the Madison, Nebraska, farm woman recently when she delivered 30 dozen eggs for which she received $4.50, or 15 cents a dozen. That would not go very far in buying a dress. It would not purchase a large number of hosiery. Mr. Curtis himself got off a telegram to the secretary of agriculture recently urging the secretary to do something about it. We doubt that Mr. Curtis would be wreathed in smiles if he delivered seventy-nine fat hens to market for which he received a check for $45, which happened recently at Fairbury. There is confusion on the farm, concern and apprehension and Mr. Curtis seems to be worried for fear these people will listen to some pinks, punks and Communies instead of tossing their hats in the air, cheering lustily and clapping their hands as they listen to the magnificent record of his party.

What Nebraska needs in Washington is not the partisanship Mr. Curtis talks about, either Republican or Democratic. What Nebraska needs is a man who knows something of what is happening to his own people, someone who is concerned with the dropping farm income, since agriculture is Nebraska's basic industry, someone who day in and day out will fight for the pocketbook interest of Nebraskans. They need not hang their heads in shame when they do this. Actually they are contributing a genuine service to the nation. Nothing which takes place in America will be more frightening, more devastating, more dangerous than an agriculture falling back into the bottomless slough of the '30's.

The Farm Census

One activity that was not caught in the administration's economy squeeze is the decennial national farm census.

During the next two months some 400 tons of questionnaires will go out to the nation's farmers asking about acres, crops, machines, livestock, income, outgo and almost everything else that makes up the economic life of agriculture.

Full and accurate answers can make the census invaluable. It is important to national security to know exactly how the nation's food machine is working. It is important to business and industry for which the farm is an important market and to which service and production must go forward with realism. It is important to the government which cannot divorce itself from programs that must always seek to achieve health and balance in the great enterprise that produces the nation's vital food. And, of course, it is important to the farmers themselves as a revealing portrait of the thing they live by.

While the census will be searching and detailed it offers no imponderables to the average farmer and whatever of it may be technical can be clarified by enumerators who are being especially trained and will be near at hand to be of service.

Editorial Of The Day

North's Problems

The sad occurrences in Baltimore and Washington symbolize difficulties that confront this nation as it seeks to throw off the shackles of racial segregation. Such events underscore the problem of the supreme court, which began its fall session this week and must now consider ways and means of implementing its ruling against segregation in the schools.

Disturbances caused by attempts to obey the supreme court edict also call attention to quite another problem. It is a problem of understanding and of attitudes. It is a problem that exists, not in the beleaguered south, but in the north.

When high school students defy authorities and refuse to attend classes because Negroes have been admitted, your typical northerner begins to get up a head of righteous steam. Realization that the students are encouraged by adults who make up in fervor what they lack in wisdom does nothing to relieve the pressure. The temptation to denounce the offending students and their elders becomes almost irresistible.

But it is a temptation that must be resisted. The dream of a society in which men of all races and creeds mingle freely on terms of equality will not be furthered by denunciation. Those who cherish the dream cannot make it come true by condemning those who cling to the warped ideal of racial superiority.

Railroads Ask Ike
Better Treatment

WASHINGTON—Inside story has never been told of how the railroads pressured President Eisenhower to cut their taxes or subsidize them outright, same as the big airlines. This led to a backstage study of the nation's transportation problems which has already brought one suggestion to create a new cabinet post, to be called "secretary of transportation."

It was William Faricy, likeable lobbyist for the Association of American Railroads, who put the bee on Ike. Faricy, one of the ablest business representatives in Washington, began by golfing with the President. However, Ike does not like to talk shop on the golf course, so Faricy delicately brought a delegation of railroad men around to the White House.

Those who accompanied him were Fred Gurley, president of Santa Fe; Harry De Butts, president of Southern; and Walter Franklin, ex-president of Pennsylvania.

They complained, with some justice, about the favored treatment the big airlines were getting from the government—the fact that the government supplies satellite signals for the airlines, weather reports, heavy mail subsidies, and in some cases tax-free airports. Meanwhile, the railroads not only build their own railroad stations and tracks but pay heavy taxes.

Ike seemed impressed. He asked the railroad men to submit a written report.

Two weeks later, a confidential bill of particulars, entitled "Government Policies Adversely Affecting Railroads," was laid on his desk.

This complained about the "selective diversion of the better-paying government freight, passenger, and mail traffic to subsidized competitors of the railroads," meaning the airlines.

Three Government Offenders

The report named three chief offenders: The Defense Department, General Services Administration, and Commerce Department. The railroads made three main suggestions:

1. The big airlines must be required to pay their own way, or the railroads must be subsidized.
2. The airlines must be taxed more or the railroads taxed less.
3. The railroads must be regulated less or at least their competitors must be regulated equally.

The President glanced over the report, then shunted it to White House Aide Gabriel Hauge. This private memo was attached:

"Memo for Gabriel Hauge: I should like you to make a careful analysis of this paper and give me a report on the entire subject. I am particularly anxious that you contact each department especially mentioned in the document and obtain from each its written opinions and recommendations, if any. (signed) D.D.E."

The courts-martial of the two corporals who were coaxed back from the Communist side in Korea—Edward Dickinson and Claude Batchelor—are only the beginning. The Army is preparing to court-martial another 30 men, narrowed down from 200, all accused of aiding the enemy while they were POW's. The Justice Department has been given the case histories of a dozen other men, now citizens. The recent Soviet H-bomb test showered Japan with radioactivity far higher than that registered after the American tests. Yet the Japanese press was so busy stirring up anti-American frenzy over the death of fisherman Aikichi Kuboyama, the so-called American H-bomb victim, that it hardly mentioned the Russian-caused radioactivity. Actually Kuboyama did not die of radioactive poisoning but of yellow jaundice which he picked up from infected blood after a transfusion. This was why American doctors were never permitted to examine him. Chairman Charles Wolverton has warned the White House that his House Commerce Committee will investigate the plan to transfer 10 top Railroad Retirement Board staff members from civil service to the patronage rolls for job-hungry Republicans. The State Department is studying a plan to tie the NATO countries together economically as well as militarily.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

BRANSON, Mo. — As we get ready to bid adieu to our good host O. D. (outside dimension) Lee, weight 265 pounds, and his good spouse, Evelyn, the Sower relaxes in the balmy Ozark autumn air to meditate on what he has learned during vacation days.

The tempo of life in this south west Missouri area is stepping up as bids are being taken for the $49,000,000 Table Rock power dam by Army engineers. Townspeople are preparing for the influx of construction workers and the added problems they will make.

But, only while the guest of the active Rotary Club do we allow ourselves to get interested in what promises to be great growth for this area. We prefer to ruminate or "chew the cud," as our friend Jonsey would say, in more leisurely fashion.

Jonsey is a native of the hills and still quaintly expounds the philosophies of his forebears. He looks askance at modern conservation methods of allowing brush to grow on the hilly slopes. He says the brush has prevented enough grass growing to pasture cows and tells of the lush grass when brush was burned annually.

"We used to be able to go out and shoot wild turkeys when meat was needed," he explains. "Now they are all gone and the only deer are at the game preserve."

O. D. questions Jonsey about a local citizen who had shown marked stupidity in his actions. "Oh, he's alright," Jonsey responds. "He's just crippled too high for crutches."

But, talk soon turns to Table Rock dam which has been the prize sought by the area ever since Bagnell was built to the northeast and Bull Shoals to the southeast. Meanwhile for years appropriations for Table Rock have been pigeonholed in Congress.

The residents of the Seventh congressional district place the blame on Rep. Dewey Short, who they contend is more interested in get-

With shoes off and toes wiggling, we recalled what we had observed in the Deep South. We missed the well-painted buildings and green lawns around farm and village homes in Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri.

Instead, we found the countryside dotted with one room cabins occupied alike by whites and Negroes. Nearly all suffered from need of paint and it is questionable whether many had ever been painted.

It was not lack of income that was responsible but apparently no desire for better home living conditions. This was evidenced by the fact R.E.A. had created a desire for deep-freezers, refrigerators and electric washing machines, which could be seen outside on the small porches.

It was rare to see a cabin that did not have a late model automobile parked outside. The incongruities were carried still further on many of these unpainted cabins when a television aerial could be observed high above the fireplace chimney used for heating.

From Baton Rouge to New Orleans on a beautiful four-lane divided highway we rode on Sunday afternoon in bumper-to-bumper traffic practically all of the distance.

There it was evident that the Negro is not the abused peon so often pictured. About 9 out of 10 of the cars that day were being used by Negro families out for a Sunday outing. All appeared well-dressed and happy driving not jalopies but cars the equal of those to be seen on Nebraska highways on Sunday afternoon.

In Arkansas in particular schools for Negro children appeared newer and better than those provided for whites. The South appeared to be putting itself to working out its own problem.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

I Know That My Redeemer Lives

I know that my Redeemer lives;
What joy the blest assurance gives;
He lives, He lives, who once was dead;
He lives, my everlasting Head!

He lives, to bless me with His love;
He lives, to plead for me above;
He lives, my hungry soul to feed;
He lives, to help in time of need.

He lives, and grants me daily breath;
He lives, and I shall conquer death;
He lives, my mansion to prepare;
He lives, to bring me safely there.

He lives, all glory to His name;
He lives, my Savior, still the same;
What joy the blest assurance gives;
I know that my Redeemer lives!

By HORACE B. POWELL

This hymn written by Samuel Medley made its first appearance in a volume of Psalms and Hymns published by the evangelist, George Whitefield, in 1775. It is based on the Bible verse in Job, 19:25, interpreted in the light of the New Testament events.

Medley was born in Hertfordshire, England in 1738. His father was a school teacher and he grew up in a Christian home. At the age of 17, however, in the British Navy, he drifted away from the home influences of his boyhood and he might never have found his way back to the church but for a serious injury which he suffered in the Seven Years War.

That famous conflict began shortly after Medley entered the Navy. In 1757 he was severely wounded in a battle with the French off Port Lagos. It was while he was recuperating in the home of his grandfather in London that he yielded to the appeal of a sermon by Dr. Watts, read to him by his grandniece, and gave himself to Christ. Later, he left the Navy, married, and taught school for four years. Then, in 1767, after entering the ministry, he accepted the pastorate of a large Baptist church in Liverpool, and for 27 years had a most successful ministry.

Domestic Issues

Broken Bow, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Why are crimes committed against our financial economic system? Is the Democratic party a war party? Was, and is, the Democratic party dictated to by a large percentage of war-mongers of the Republican party?

Mr. Bromfield has put the Democrats on the spot of utter defeat by stating:

"They committed suicide in their handling of Korea, Communism, and corruption."

He says:

"The Democrats have displayed little evidence of a change in heart or even, as the opposition, offering much that is positive or calculated to benefit any of us."

It seems to this writer that after viewing the past history of wars, the Republicans were the proponents of wars and the Democrats were the disposers of wars.

This combination of political partyism has brought about the bottleneck of the cold war, with Communism and all the corruption that followed is squarely upon the necks of both political parties.

Let the voters take care of the domestic issues. They are the loop holes to keep the voters divided on the big issues of the world's distress.

Wake up, Democrats. There will be another war on your hands to dispose of. More corruption to follow.

Fine Impression

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: May I express to you the appreciation of the Kiwanis Club of Lincoln for the fine coverage given by your newspaper to the Nebraska-Iowa District convention of Kiwanis held in Lincoln on Sept. 19, 20 and 21. I know that Lincoln made a fine impression on our several hundred guests and your paper did a fine job of reporting the convention to the people of Lincoln.

Second Verse

Riverton, Neb.

Nixon and Hall went out upon a bike
To persuade the voters their platform to like.
But when their campaign opened,
And the Democrats began to strike,
They cried, "To hell with the platform—
It depends upon Ike."

Study Of A Leaf

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On Saturday, Oct. 2, I noticed with particular interest a picture of Mary Ramig shown on the front page of your paper. We are always pleased when a newspaper or periodical publishes this type of thing, since it is of considerable value in a much needed public education concerning blind people of all ages.

I personally was pleased with the excellent photography. I happen to know this little girl very well, and your reproduction was an excellent characterization showing her closely studying the leaf which she holds in her hand. I think that it would be splendid if sometime in the near future this

Promise Of No Sidewalk

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I think Mr. Dobler's article on the Winthrop Road sidewalk gave a true picture of the situation.

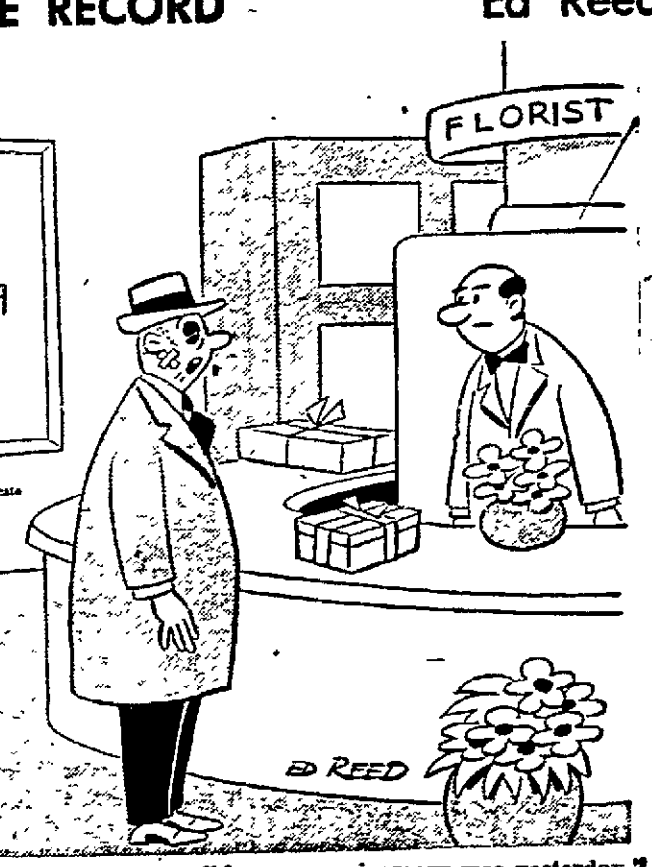

Safety of school children is given as the reason for the walks, yet neither Mr. Ames nor anyone else can satisfactorily explain the reason for placing them on the west side of Winthrop for the benefit of five children while creating an additional hazard to 25 or 30 children who must cross this so-called dangerous street in order to get to the walks.

The whole thing is a phony, as the residents well know. The people who took this case to court should not be criticized, for this was their only course of action if they thought they were wronged. It was no doubt intended largely as a protest to minority rule.

All of this destruction and depreciation of property values is of not much concern to a man now removed from the neighborhood, but to those of us who planned our homes on the city's tacit promise of no sidewalks it is a matter of prime importance. We think integrity is important. Albeit, if the property owners could see a genuine reason—with no other solution—I think most of them would be willing to sacrifice.

Settlement Made In Drive-In Case

BEATRICE, Neb. — Final settlement was announced in a damage action arising out of the sale of the Crest Drive-In Theater just outside Beatrice.

Terms of the settlement were not announced but a warranty deed on file at the Gage County Courthouse bore revenue stamps indicating the amount was approximately $70,000, the amount held by District Judge Cloyd B. Ellis to be owing on the drive-in.

The plaintiff in the action, Saul Frank of McPherson, Kan., alleged that he had been given fraudulent information on which he based his decision to buy the theater from C. M. Alspach and V. C. Anderson also of McPherson, for $125,000.

The court awarded Frank $55,000 damages, leaving a balance of $70,000 due on the purchase of the theatre. The final settlement was made out of court, however.

Officers Probe Bar Explosion

OMAHA — The Spot Bar in North Omaha was damaged extensively Friday by the explosion of what police said apparently was a black powder bomb.

Clarence V. Ziegler, the owner, estimated damage at more than $1,000.

The blast smashed glass in the front of the building, blew holes in the floor and ceiling of a vestibule, shattered bottles and part of the bar itself.

Police said the bar had no background trouble and concentrated their efforts in a search for a man who had been involved in a domestic dispute at the bar last April.

No Fire

A janitor in the bar, Alex Melvin, 76, Omaha, was in the basement when the blast went off. He said he hurried upstairs to find the bar full of smoke. There was no fire.

Detective Sgts. Glen Gates and John Gallagher said when they arrived at the scene there was a strong smell of black powder.

Money Not Missing

They found two pieces of iron pipe near the scene of the explosion. They said a pipe packed with explosive and capped on both ends is a familiar type of bomb. The bomb, they added, apparently was set just inside the front vestibule.

Ziegler said no money was taken from the cash register and apparently no stock was molested.

Ziegler told police he could offer no explanation for the bombing.

The explosion threw the door of the bar across the street and into a used car lot. Some autos were damaged.

Wheat Research Discussion Set At Ogallala Show

An intensive research program saving wheat farmers millions of dollars yearly will be one of several topics discussed at this year's state wheat show. The state contest will be held Oct. 21, at Ogallala.

Speaking on the afternoon program, Dr. H. A. Rodenhiser, who since 1923 has been in the cereals section of the Department of Agriculture in charge of research pertaining to smut and rust, will tell of the scope of this wheat improvement program.

To Discuss Progress

Dr. Rodenhiser will tell how the program now in progress is striving to incorporate in new wheat varieties a resistance to the virulent races of stem and leaf rust. The University of Nebraska with its wheat breeding program is co-operating with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in a regional and national research program.

Illustrating his talk with colored slides, he will show how the USDA program is screening wheat varieties from foreign countries as far away as Africa, South America and Asia to locate rust resistant strains of wheat.

The 1954 wheat show includes four divisions for wheat exhibitors — the junior division for 4-H and FFA members, market division for market wheat growers, certified seed division for certified seed growers, and a sweepstake division for all past grand and reserve champion exhibitors.

120 Million Radio Sets Said In Use

OMAHA — The vice president for radio of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters produced statistics to show that 120 million radio sets are in use.

John F. Meagher, speaking to the district 10 NARTB convention, said the number of radio sets in use had jumped from 77 million to 120 million in the last six years.

"Radio now is reaching vast audiences no other medium can reach," he declared.

The number of stations in the United States, he added, has tripled in 10 years.

With the advent of television, he said, self-styled experts predicted that most people in the radio business would have starved to death by now or died of sheer mortification.

State Briefs: Dolpher Heads David City Chamber

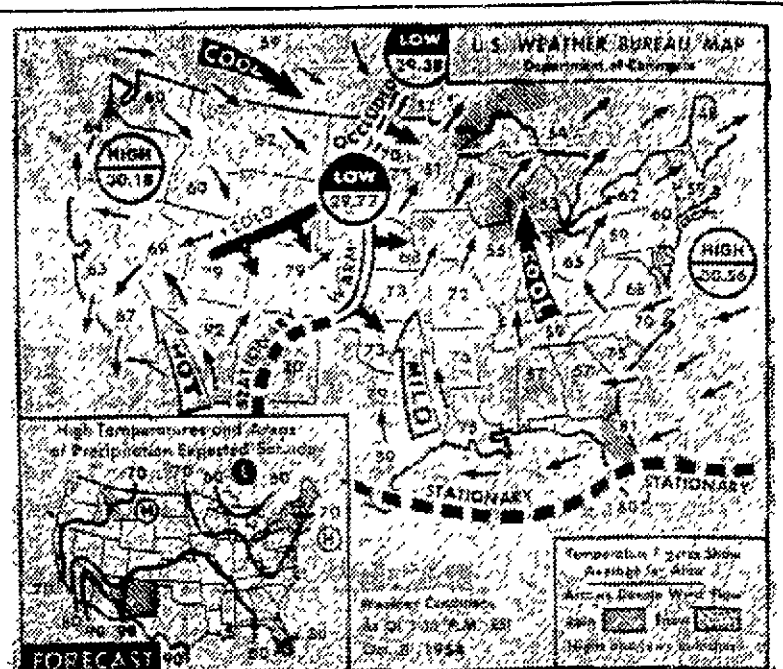

DAVID CITY—New president of David City Chamber of Commerce is V. E. Dolpher. He succeeds A. M. Morgan. New members of the board of directors are Dolpher, Al Grubaugh, Harve Armagost and John McVay. J. V. Nicodemus has been appointed to fill the remaining one year of the term of F. J. Cook, who has moved to Fremont.

HYANNIS—A "funlight" for all the children in the Hyannis area is being planned. The party will be held at the Community Hall.

The Sorensens reside in Glendale, Calif.

LYONS—Donna Sorensen, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sorensen, former Lyons residents, was seriously injured in a water skiing accident on Newport beach in California, according to word received here.

WESTERN—Plans have been completed for the fourth annual Saline County Band Clinic to be held here next Tuesday. Guest conductor will be Raymond E. Zepp of the University of Kansas. Band members from six towns are expected to attend.

Cloudy Weather On Horizon

Rainy weather is forecast for Saturday from Maine southwestward through New York to northern Pennsylvania and Ohio, and also in Florida, southern and northern Rockies. Skies will be generally fair over the rest of the nation. There will be a warming trend over the entire eastern half of the U. S., with very little change in temperature anticipated in western half. # State Labor Convention Opening Monday

300 Delegates Are Expected

OMAHA (U)—The 45th annual convention of the Nebraska State Federation of Labor opening here Monday will feature addresses by speakers representing nearly all phases of labor.

Some 300 delegates from over the state are expected to attend the three-day meeting. Gordon C. Preble of Omaha is state president.

The tentative program lists such speakers as:

George D. Riley, member of the national legislative committee, American Federation of Labor; Gov. Robert B. Crosby; George K. Reese, Midwest director, American Federation of Labor; Robert Kline, information specialist, division of employment security, department of labor;

Walter King, regional director, wage and hour division, U. S. Department of Labor; George K. Dooley, associate director, AFL Labor participation department; Edward H. Ries, commissioner, federal mediation and conciliation service;

R. C. Tillotson, field representative, bureau of apprentice training; James A. Hart, democratic candidate for Congress, First District, and Keith Neville, North Platte, democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Frank Johnson, Member Of Tax Board, Is Dead

OMAHA (U)—Frank L. Johnson, 72, a member of the Douglas County Tax Appraisal Board, died Friday at his home. His death followed a series of three heart attacks.

Johnson was appointed to a six-year term on the TAB July, 1953, after having served one year of an unexpired term. He had retired in 1948 from service with the Federal Reserve Bank. He had served as a member of the Omaha School Board for eight years, beginning in 1932.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter and a son.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Monday.

Omaha Reports 4 More Polio Cases

OMAHA (INS)—The Omaha-Douglas County Health Department said four new polio patients have been hospitalized in the county this week, bringing the total for the year to 82.

The patients are 22-year-old Myrna Regier, four-year-old Jerry Jursak, nine-year-old Howard Shinkel, and two-year-old Ronald Oden, all of Omaha.

The total at this time—a year ago was only 14.

Martin Refrains From Comment On Campaign Report For Ike

OMAHA (U)—A group of top ranking Republicans spent a half hour in Omaha Friday en route to a conference with President Eisenhower in Denver, but they weren't saying what they will report to the president about the campaign.

"Any comment on what I will say to the president would be premature," House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) told newsmen at the Municipal Airport.

Martin's party included Rep. Halleck, (R-Ind) House majority leader; Rep. Arends (R-III) majority whip, and Rep. Allen (R-III) chairman of the House Rules committee.

Also on the plane were Senators Knowland (R-Calif.) Senate Majority leader and Ferguson (R-Mich) chairman of the Republican Policy committee of the Senate.

Chase Meets Group

Former District Judge Jackson B. Chase of Omaha, Republican candidate for Congress in the second district, had gone to the airport to meet the four congressmen, was surprised not only to find the two Senators on board, but to be reminded by Sen. Ferguson that the two were classmates in the University of Michigan Law School in 1913. Sen. Ferguson also is a former district judge.

Speaker Martin, ruddy and smiling, confidently spoke of a Republican majority in the House and said he'd be a candidate for speaker.

Asked if any action by the House might be contemplated in connection with the statement to a Senate Committee Thursday that Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga) was a hidden stockholder in a New regimental commander of 831-student University of Nebraska Army ROTC unit is Paul E. Scheele of Lincoln, according to Col. Chester J. Diestel, professor of military science and tactics.

Scheele, who was selected from the top senior cadets, will hold the rank of cadet colonel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Scheele and the husband of the former Gerry Asp of Holdrege.

Second in command is Lyle W. Dennison of Nebraska City, who was named executive officer. Dennison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Dennison and is married to the former Elizabeth C. Rohwer of Fort Calhoun. He will hold the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel.

Other members of the regimental staff are Cadet Maj. Valdean E. Markussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Markussen of Lincoln, adjutant; and Cadet Maj. Donald

Soil Cement Lining Bids To Be Asked

SUPERIOR, Neb. (U)—Bids will be received Oct. 20 for a soil cement lining in a mile-long stretch of the Franklin canal, Robert L. Boyce, construction engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation, announced.

Boyce said although the use of soil cement lining in canals is not new, somewhat different methods are to be employed on this job and if they are successful, they may result in a considerable saving on future work for the bureau and others. Soil cement is a mixture of earth and Portland Cement. The Portland Cement Assn., is co-operating in the project for experimental purposes.

The lining project has been undertaken to control seepage in the area, which is about two miles east of the Harlan County Dam.

Bids will be opened on a similar project, calling for five miles of earth lining on the Franklin and Courtland canals Oct. 28.

Farmers Should Not Be Ashamed Of Help—Neville

FALLS CITY, Neb. (U)—Keith Neville, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, on a campaigning visit here, said farmers should not be ashamed of anything received from the federal government in any way of support.

Neville said that while farmers were paid $223,000,000 in price supports in 1953 big business and industry was paid $1,216,000,000 in subsidies of various kinds.

"I am for what it takes to maintain agricultural prosperity and as I view it now," he said, "that means supporting basic agricultural commodities at least at 90 per cent of parity."

Competition In Politics 'Good'

TECUMSEH, Neb. (U)—Preservation of the two-party system of government is one of the chief obligations of citizenship, Frank Morrison of McCook told a Tecumseh Kiwanis Club's ladies night meeting.

Competition is good both in business and politics, the Democratic candidate for First District congressman declared.

Best government results when both parties are equally divided so that the best men running on an issue of public interest can be elected, he said.

In Nebraska, Morrison stated, the deep entrenchment of the one-party system has led the Congressional delegation to vote for legislation which was against the interests of Nebraska people in order to follow a national political line.

Boyle Charges 'Electionitis'

OMAHA (U)—Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle said Rep. Carl Curtis, Republican senatorial candidate displayed "symptoms" of "electionitis" in a "telegram to Washington to get the Army to buy eggs from the farmers of Nebraska."

Curtis asked Agricultural Secretary Benson to inaugurate an egg buying program, and Boyle said "this egg were coupled with his vote on the farm parity bill and his absence from the House 43 times out of 46 roll calls is a true reflection of his position with relation to the farmers of Nebraska."

Hruska Sees Hope In '54 Farm Act

OMAHA (U)—Rep. Roman L. Hruska, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, said Nebraska farmers can "look forward with hope to the 1954 agriculture act which will go into effect soon."

Hruska declared "the new farm law bill will move us away from burdensome and vexatious production and acreage controls which have been such a sore spot for the Nebraska farmers these past two years."

"The new law," he said, "also will bring about a recovery of farm prices and income which have been slipping since 1951."

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures will average 6 to 12 degrees above normal through Wednesday. Warmer Saturday, except a little cooler in the northwest. No large temperature changes indicated thereafter. Normal highs near 70, and normal lows range from 37 in the west to 43 in the southeast. Scattered showers will average .25 of an inch or less.

Mid-State Submits NPPS Contract Plan

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (U)—Initial proposals for a power contract between the Nebraska Public Power System and the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District have been submitted to NPPS by the reclamation district, Secretary J. K. McKinney told the district's board of directors at their October meeting here.

The contracts would govern the sale of electricity to NPPS from four proposed Mid-State hydroelectric plants. More than two years ago NPPS agreed to purchase all available Mid-State power.

The four plants would have an installed capacity of 15,000 kilowatts each, or a total of 60,000. The average annual production would be 205,060,000 kilowatt hours of electricity.

According to terms of the proposed contract, the Mid-State plants would be operated in conjunction with other hydro plants of the Nebraska Public Power System.

$42,283,940 Project

The four Mid-State power plants are estimated to cost $13,803,640 for construction, and the cost of the entire project is estimated at $42,283,940. Power revenues are estimated at $1,222,740 annually, which would amortize the indebtedness for building the power plants, incurred through revenue bonds.

Under a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. A. L. Miller, the other construction costs would be advanced by the federal government, part in the form of a non-interest loan, the rest in an outright grant.

A letter from State Irrigation Engineer Dan Jones agreeing with a recent feasibility report on the Mid-State was received by the board.

"It is my view," Jones wrote, "that the development of the Mid-State project will furnish needed facilities for the irrigation of lands, and the replenishment of ground-water supplies in the Mid-State area, by conserving and using a large portion of the flow of the Platte River which now flows out of the state unused."

"These benefits, together with those that will be realized in the control of local floods, and the greatly increased production of power which will come about through the coordination of the operation of the project with those of existing irrigation and power districts in the basin, should contribute much toward the economic stability of the region."

The board approved creation of a committee to confer in Lincoln Oct. 12 with Clarence A. Davis, undersecretary of the Interior. On the committee will be president T. C. Reeves, C. J. Reitan, E. H. Staubitz, and O. A. Drake.

Chances Of Direct U.S. Action To Bolster Egg Prices Slim

... Industry Group Recommends Against It

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chances of direct government action to bolster producer prices of eggs and poultry appeared slim Friday night as an industry advisory committee recommended against it.

A 24-member committee of producers and distributors told Agriculture Department officials after a day-long closed-door conference that it still held to an opinion reached last April that the government should stay out of poultry markets.

Some farm-state lawmakers and poultry producers have asked the department to buy eggs and poultry as a means of improving prices which have dropped sharply in recent months. The poultry products would be donated to relief agencies and to the school lunch program.

Secretary Benson called the advisory committee to make recommendations on these proposals. While no official statement was available, aides said it was unlikely that the secretary would go counter to the committee's recommendations.

Committee members said they did not believe a government buying program would help the markets in view of limited government outlets and the size of supplies. They blamed overproduction for the depressed prices.

Committee members suggested that a revision in the Defense Department's buying policy might help some in bolstering prices. This department buys only large size eggs for men in the services, but prices of medium sized ones are depressed the most.

The committee member said the Defense Department could help itself and the poultry industry if it bought the medium ones. On a weight basis, they said, large sized eggs cost almost twice as much as the medium ones.

In a statement issued last April, the advisory committee said it believes in "self-help, leaving to the industry the solution of its own problems."

The department supported prices of eggs and poultry during the war, but suspended such operations in 1950.

Committee members said they had received reports that the German government might buy upwards of 25 million dollars worth of frozen eggs in the U.S. market in the near future. Such buying, they said, could be expected to help prices some.

Assistant Road Jobs Prohibited To Commissioners

The attorney General's office ruled that County Board members cannot be employed as assistant county highway commissioners.

The Legislature has authorized appointment of one County Board member as county highway commissioner, the opinion said.

But the 1949 legislature eliminated a separate provision for compensation for directing road work, which had served as a means of additional compensation for county board members.

"There is therefore no longer any specific statutory authorization for this type of additional compensation," Assistant Attorney General Ralph Nelson wrote.

He pointed out further that no county officer shall in any way be pecuniarily interested in or receive the benefit of any contracts executed by the county.

"This statute prohibits the employment of County Board members as assistant highway commissioners of the county," Nelson added.

The specific exception is the statutory provision for naming one of the county board members as highway commissioner.

Corpse Coffin Vexes Viewers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was vigorous not rigor-mortis Thursday night in a TV murder mystery.

An actor appropriately named Tristram Coffin played the role of a husband shot to death in the den of his home by his wife, Teresa Wright. It was the opening mystery drama in a series televised by CBS and starring Dick Powell as a detective.

Coffin lay on the den floor, a blanket covering him, signifying he was dead. Detective Powell, standing nearby, told Detective Horace McMann to get help and take the body outside.

At this point viewers saw the blanket rise slightly and undulate toward the side of their screens. Network spokesmen said Tristram thought the camera was no longer focused on the coffin corner.

Despite Time, Duis Again Urges Power Study

State Sen. Herbert Duis of Gothenburg said he still believes there should be a study of Nebraska's power situation before the next session of the Legislature, regardless of the fact the time is short.

He predicted the power situation will become an important issue in the 1955 session, and said the members should have the benefit of whatever facts can be brought out in advance, "before it hits them."

Duis urged in a letter to the Legislative Council early last month that a special committee be appointed to study the power situation.

Time Too Short

But the executive board of the council turned down the proposal on the grounds time is too short, it was disclosed.

Duis declared the public power districts have "involved themselves in a controversy that is very detrimental to the people."

He said he was not referring in particular to the debate over whether the Nebraska Public Power System or Consumers should build the new generating plant which both say is needed to meet the growing demand for electric power.

"To my mind, who builds the power generating plant is a minor issue," the Gothenburg legislator continued.

He said the trouble as he sees it is "the struggle for control that is going on among the individuals charged with administration of the state's public power system."

Refunding Question

"The financial status of the public power and irrigation districts should be investigated," he declared.

He said he would like to see any possible re-funding of the powers districts' debt and construction of additional facilities "held off until we know what we are doing."

"We've got to have a plan," he conceded.

"But unless we have a study, I don't know how the Legislature can be informed when the problem comes to them," he added.

Rates also should be investigated, he said.

"I believe, if the facts were known, we would find there is a difference in power rates between the districts down to the REA level," he commented.

This was one of the reasons, he explained, that he suggested in his letter to the council that the Railway Commission, Department of Roads and Irrigation, or some new agency which the Legislature might set up should have supervision of the state's power industry.

No Place to Go

Any disagreements arising between the different power groups could be argued out before such an agency, and from there appeal could be taken to the Supreme Court, Duis said.

At present, there is "no place to go" when controversies between the various power systems need arbitration, he added.

If a study is made, he said, one point which should be included is the possible cost to the public if the system were re-financed. He predicted it might "run into millions" in increased interest charges.

Mavis Wheeler Found Guilty In Peer Shooting

... Lord Vivian Testifies In Her Behalf

SALISBURY, Eng. (AP)—Mrs. Mavis Wheeler, vivacious 39-year-old blonde divorcee, was convicted Friday and sentenced to six months in jail for shooting Lord Vivian, London theatrical producer, in their lonely cottage love nest.

A jury of nine men and three women, deliberating three hours, acquitted the tall, shapely defendant of trying to murder the British peer, 48, during gunplay which climaxed a night of fancy drinking in a country pub.

The jury's verdict against her was two-fold: Unlawful and malicious wounding of the one-time call boy in a San Francisco theater and illegal possession of the gun, a .45 caliber U. S. Army pistol.

Mrs. Wheeler, who has been in jail without bail since the shooting last July 30, remained calm when the verdict and sentence were pronounced. After hearing her fate, she slowly sat down, a nurse on one side of her and a police man on the other.

Spectator Gasp

A woman in the rear of the room gasped: "Oh, no!"

During the five-day trial—avidly followed by most Britons—both Lord Vivian, married and the father of three children, and Mrs. Wheeler testified the shooting was an accident, one that happened to two people in love while playfully tussling for the gun.

The peer was seriously wounded in the abdomen and wrist. He was still haggard and shaken as he told the court the attractive divorcee "is very gentle, warm and loving."

He said he and the twice-married defendant had been living together since December, 1953, but "I should like to say here and now that Mrs. Wheeler never broke up my home."

Lord Vivian, who had been in court earlier in the day, was not present when the verdict was handed down. Neither was Lady Vivian who also had been there in the morning. Their son, Nicholas, 19, and Mrs. Wheeler's son by a first marriage, Tristan de Vere Vole, were on hand.

The shooting occurred in Mrs. Wheeler's cottage at Devizes, in England's rolling West Country, where Lord Vivian and Mrs. Wheeler had gone for an 18-day holiday.

Before the shooting, Lord Vivian testified, they dropped in the village pub where they downed a bottle of wine, seven or eight glasses of sherry, several liquors and three or four bottles of stout.

Joking And Laughing

Mrs. Wheeler testified she tried the gun three times at the cottage while she and Lord Vivian were "joking and laughing." She said the gun went off accidentally when Lord Vivian tried to take it from her after warning the firing would make a "terrific row."

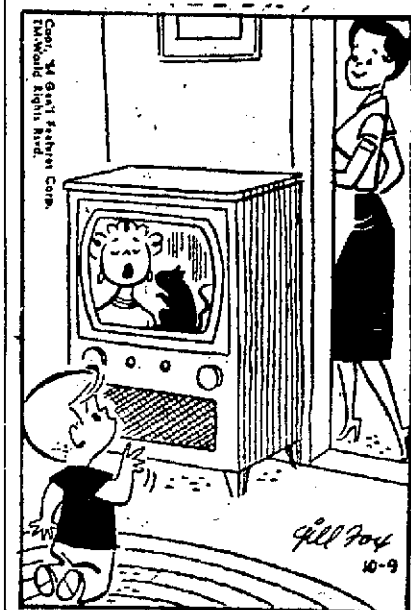

She said the evening had been one of pleasant talk and swore she had no idea of shooting the man with whom she said she was "most truly" in love. She said she was "fuzzy" from drink and her companion was "three sheets to the wind."

Mrs. Wheeler is the former wife of the archeologist, Sir Mortimer Wheeler. They were divorced in 1942 after three years of marriage. Her first marriage was to Horace de Vere Cole, brother-in-law of the late Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Lord Vivian married Lady Vivian in 1930. In addition to Nicholas, las, there are two other children, Sally, 24, and Victor, 14. He was a partner of the late Sir Charles Cochran, famed British showman and producer. At other times he worked as a newspaper reporter and critic in Edmonton and Vancouver, Canada, and in London as a theater publicity man.

WORKERS FOR FCC WARNED

Told Not To Get Drunk In Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—People who work at the Federal Communications Commission are under notice not to commit such "ill considered acts" as getting drunk in public or attending "loud or disorderly parties."

This was disclosed Friday in an FCC circular which had made the rounds privately last month. It went to all employees as a followup to a general administration program set up to prevent loose practices in federal agencies.

With disclosure of the FCC memorandum, which of course covered more serious acts than loud partying, reporters asked about the State Department attitude toward party conduct.

Sedately, Press Officer Henry Suydam replied:

He Says Few Have Time

"It is assumed that employees of the Department of State know how to act at parties. Furthermore under present schedules few have time to go to parties."

When the general government program aimed at loose practices was disclosed, Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder said at the Summer White House in Denver that nothing in it deals "with the private lives of government employees."

The FCC memorandum noted under the heading of "scandalous conduct":

Employees may not engage in social or other activities which might result in unfavorable personal notoriety or scandals which would reflect unfavorably upon the commission or the federal service...

"Activities which might result in this type of unfavorable publicity include brawling, being drunk or using abusive language in public; attending loud or disorderly parties; or engaging in any conduct which, although not necessarily illegal, is not condoned by society."

Other conduct deemed wrong includes acceptance of gratuities of any kind, having a financial interest in any enterprise regulated by the Communications Act and disclosing confidential information.

NOBEL PRIZE GOES BEGGING

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Peace Prize is going begging this year — in one of the most peaceful periods the world has had in the last two decades.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee announced Friday the prize will not be awarded in 1954. It offered no reason. The committee has discontinued its former practice of issuing a list of nominees. Government and individual organizations can make nominations for the $50,000 prize.

The prize was omitted also in 1948. While there was no award in 1952 itself, the committee last year designated Dr. Albert Schweitzer to receive the 1952 prize to the candidate "who has worked the most and best for promoting brotherhood among people, and for the abolition of reduction of standing armies, and for the establishment and spread of peace congresses."

The will of the inventor of dynamite also established annual prizes in literature, physics, chemistry and medicine.

The peace prize committee is named by the Norwegian Parliament. Its members are Gunnar Jahn, former director of the national bank; Martin Tranmael, socialist editor; G. Natvig Pedersen, former president of Parliament; Carl J. Hambro, Conservative party leader; and Mrs. Aase Lionaes, an editor.

Melvin Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O. Peterson, is the carrier responsible for delivering The Lincoln Star to Maywood, Neb. subscribers.

A carrier since February, Melvin says he likes his route better every day. He prefers a morning newspaper route because it leaves him after school hours free to work toward building his route business.

His hobbies include raising rabbits and playing baseball. Now that Melvin is back in school he finds the regular profits from his route every four weeks come in handy in buying school supplies.

Melvin is part of the great organization of carriers honored during National Newspaperboy Week. These boys dedicate a part of their time every day to carry the news to the American public. The carrier organization is truly essential to maintaining the Constitutional right of freedom of the press.

90% Campbell Homes Connect To New Sewer

CAMPBELL, Neb. — Approximately 90 per cent of Campbell's homes will be connected to a sanitary sewage disposal unit, which will cost this town of 460 population about $52,000.

An additional $8,000 is also being spent on a new water well in anticipation of increased water needs with the operation of the sewage system.

Cost of the work will be paid for by a combination flat $125 hookup charge plus footage assessment of property. The remainder of the cost will be met by a bond issue.

Wedding On Saturday

MISS IRENE SEVERA

For the marriage of Miss Irene Severa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve A. Severa, and Robert D. Baumfalk, son of D. T. Baumfalk, which will take place Saturday morning, Oct. 9, lighted white candles and pedestal arrangements of white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli will appoint the altar and chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral. The 9 o'clock ceremony will be solemnized by the Rev. Conrad Marama.

Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, will play the wedding music and also will accompany Donald I. Inghram, the vocal soloist.

Wearing identical frocks of crimson velvet will be the matron of honor, Mrs. Donald I. Inghram, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Scheele of Marysville, Kan., and Mrs. Joe Kudelka. Fashioned with full skirts and fitted, off-shoulder basques, their costumes will be completed by tiaras of pearl-embroidered velvet. They will carry cascades of pink feathered carnations.

Miss Severa has chosen a gown of blush pink satin for her wedding. A Peter Pan collar traced with seed pearls accents the molded bodice, and the pearl motif is repeated at the wrists of the long, fitted sleeves. Shirred into fullness, the skirt extends into a cathedral train, and her veil of bluish illusion will be held to the head by a coronet of pearls. She will carry an arrangement of crimson Delight roses, and her jewelry will include a gold cross worn by her grandmother as a bride, and pearl earrings which her mother wore as a bride.

Serving as best man will be Roland C. Goggins, and the ushers will be Marvin L. Holscher and Otto J. McGinley Jr.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in Lincoln where the bridegroom is completing his studies at the University of Nebraska College of Law. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration and a member of Newman Club and Phi Delta Phi law fraternity.

A member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha business women's sorority, Newman Club and Towne Club, Miss Severa is a graduate of the University of Nebraska Teachers College.

AROUND TOWN

HERE WE are at the tag end of another week—but there are no tag ends in the news—It's as fresh as a daisy and doubly interesting—This morning, for instance we have exciting news from Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Wentz who announce the marriage of their daughter, Maxine Wentz Riddleberger, to Richard Allen Polk.

The ceremony was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church in San Diego on Friday, Oct. 1.

Mr. Polk and his bride will reside in San Diego.

THEN we learned that Mrs. Will Raymond of Kerrville, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, is in town for a visit with old friends. During her stay here Mrs. Raymond, who is being kept busy with numerous informal courtesies, is the house guest of Mrs. O. W. Everett.

AND mention of Mrs. Everett reminds us that she returned home a few days ago from Ottawa, Kan., where she was the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milo

Hewitt—and where a family reunion was an extra-special feature. Also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt were Mrs. Hewitt's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eyer Stoniger of San Diego, and their son, Jerry Stoniger.

We also think you might be interested in learning that Jerry Stoniger is en route to Heidelberg, Germany where he will attend the University of Heidelberg.

SATURDAY NIGHT Club members will be dining and dancing at Hotel Cornhusker this evening when the motif for the party will revolve around the autumn season. Planning the

Lincoln Club Wins Award

The National Safety Council has announced that the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln has been awarded a certificate of merit in the annual Carol Lane Traffic Safety awards.

The awards, which are given in recognition of the accomplishments of women in traffic safety work, included the Lincoln club because of its program on child safety and safety education, the group's community service project of the year.

The group staffed booths demonstrating bicycle safety at both the Capitol City home show and the Boy Scout merit badge show, and participated in radio and TV shows emphasizing safety precautions. The club, of which Mrs. C. M. Stewart is president, also made a traffic accident survey on railroad crossings in the community.

Marriage Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rhodes of Gresham have announced the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Airman 3/c William Troxler, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Troxler of Detroit, Mich.

The wedding took place on Thursday, Sept. 30, at the Lincoln Air Force Base Chapel. Maj. Theodore Carlberg, chaplain, read the lines of the service.

Mrs. Fred Sehnert will be a 10 o'clock coffee hostess next Thursday morning at her home, 3728 W St., when she entertains all past presidents of the Parent-Teachers Association Council, and the presiding president.

The guests will be shown a picture of all of the council presidents which was a project during the administration of Mrs. Herman Siefkes, and which will be hung in the state office of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Bride And Bride-Elect

MISS BETTY RUTH WEYAND

Miss Betty Ruth Weyand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Weyand, will become the bride of Airman 3-c David M. Priest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Priest of Elmhurst, Ill., at a ceremony to be solemnized Saturday morning, Oct. 9, at Christ Methodist Church. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the Rev. Lloyd Watt will read the lines of the 11 o'clock service.

A prelude of organ music will be presented by Richard Carol who also will play the wedding music and accompany Larry Kimmel, vocalist.

The matron of honor and her sister's only attendant will be Mrs. Orval Rippe who will wear an afternoon frock in black and pink silk print with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage will be fashioned of pale blue carnations.

Serving as best man will be Gerry Sloan, and seating the guests will be Robert Selvick.

Miss Weyand will appear in a gown of powder blue designed in the daytime mode. Her accessories will be in the navy tone and she will carry a white Bible marked with a cluster of red rosebuds.

of Mrs. Don Martin when the top ten campaigners in the recent ticket drive for the Community Playhouse, the former Circle Theater, were honored.

The group of honorees included Mrs. R. C. Troit, Mrs. Wayne Cooper, Mrs. Hazel Smith, Mrs. Neal Mehning, Mrs. Willis Hecht, Mrs. Eber Tice, Mrs. Lyle Hans, Mrs. Norman Leuthauser, Mrs. Homer Hamilton, and Mrs. Leslie Hewes.

Insurance Club Dinner

The Insurance Women of Lincoln will hold their regular dinner-meeting at 6 o'clock, Thursday, at the YWCA when the guests will include Nellie Shelley, regional director of the national Association of Insurance Women, and members of the Council Bluffs and Omaha clubs.

A talk by George Phillips of Trinidad, a graduate student in education at the University of Nebraska, will be a feature of the program. Mrs. Edna Miller is chairman of the hostess committee assisted by Mrs. Celia Wymore and Miss Katherine Burger.

MISS LYANNE KRUGER

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kruger of Scribner are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Lyanne, to Graydon Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hamm, also of Scribner. Plans have been made for a spring wedding.

The bride-elect attended business school in Omaha and is residing in Lincoln where she is employed. Mr. Hamm is a student at the University of Nebraska.

December Bride-Elect

MISS DOROTHY SCHMIDT

Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. F. Schmidt of St. Joseph, Mo., this morning announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to George Arthur Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Don Shaw of Lincoln.

The wedding, which will take place at the English Lutheran Church in St. Joseph, is planned for Monday, Dec. 27.

Miss Schmidt attended St. Joseph Junior College and is a graduate of the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago, where she now is a member of the nursing staff.

Mr. Shaw was graduated from the University of Nebraska, where he majored in journalism, and where he is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity of which he has served as president. He now is a graduate student at the University of Kansas where he is working toward his Master's Degree in Public Administration.

Class In Civil Defense

Continuing its instruction of the citizens relative to the best methods of self and family protection in any emergency, the Nebraska Civil Defense Agency has scheduled another civil defense class which will be held Monday evening, Oct. 11, at Randolph School. The class, in which the Family Action program will be presented by the state office, will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will close promptly at 9 p.m. At this class families will learn how to organize themselves into family disaster teams; how to prepare a shelter and stock it with emergency provisions; what action should be taken when the air raid sirens sound, and how to fight small fires in the home before the fire department arrives. The class also will study the simple methods of locating and rescuing trapped persons who may be caught in fires during enemy attack.

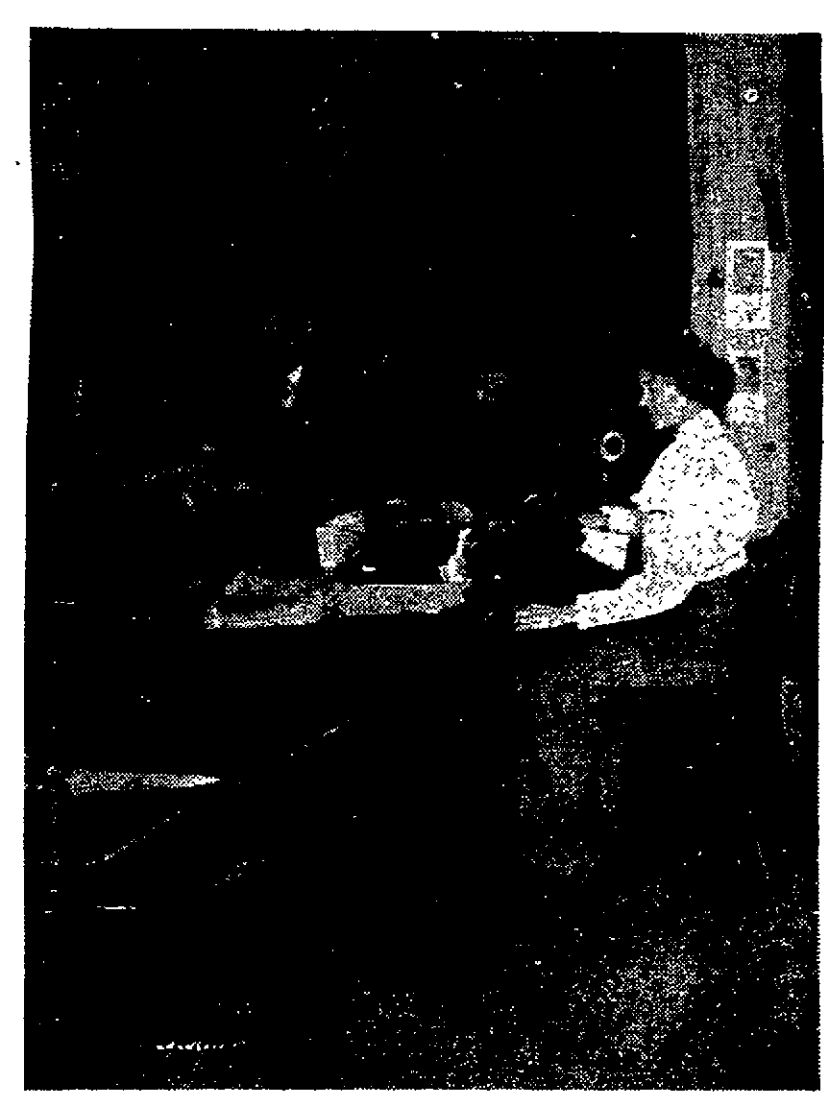

The class will conclude with a few pointers on first aid, and two short films, "Operation Doorstep," and "The House in the Middle." Any citizen of Lincoln, whether a member of a Parent-Teacher group or not, is not only invited, but urged to attend. Two former classes in civil defense already have been held at Randolph School, and the series is the first course of such instruction in the state. Much of the material touched upon in the classes has been arranged to cover requests for information from throughout the state.

Bookmark Club Hears Reviews

Miss Vida Beck was hostess to the members of the Bookmark Club at her home Thursday evening. The program was given by Miss Edna Thompson who reviewed, "Birds Across the Sky," and "Snowshoe Country," by Florence Jacquiss.

Nails And Hose Last Longer, Too

National Business and Professional Women's Week, October 10 to 16, serves to remind women in the business world that they have come a long, long way up the ladder of progress and success since this picture was made of a typical business office in Lincoln in 1910 or 1911.

With her long skirts modestly tucked about her ankles and sporting a modish, white "shirtwaist," Miss Lola Litton is pictured at her desk and typewriter in the office of Henkle and Joyce.

Lincoln business and professional women will join with others in the nation next week to celebrate the 27th annual National Business Women's Week, Oct. 10 to 16.

Sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the week will serve to remind working women everywhere of the progress they have made toward greater responsibilities and increased opportunities since women were granted the right to vote three decades ago.

Today in the United States, more than 19 million women are employed outside of the home, and 30 per cent of all workers in the nation are women.

With a membership of 165,000 in 3,000 clubs, the National Federation of B and PW Clubs seeks to improve the status of women everywhere, politically and economically. On a national scale, the federation supports the equal rights bill, and currently is working toward equal pay for equal work and the promotion of women in policy-making positions.

Credited with being responsible for the unprecedented number of voters in the 1952 elections, the federation urges all women to participate in government and community affairs to attain a better world for their children.

Organized in 1919 at St. I. Mo., with a membership of 2, the national federation is making plans for a $325,000 headquarters building to be erected in Washington, D.C. In 1953, the organization participated in the International Congress of Business and Professional Women held at Stockholm, Sweden, attended by representatives from 20 nations.

Through its international relations program, the federation contributes to a Chinese nursing fund and in 1951 established a World Friendship fund. The

The secretary of today entering the business world takes for granted all the modern and convenient equipment which is provided for her comfort, and is even heard to complain when she smudges her manicure changing a typewriter ribbon.

Providing the 1954 contrast is Mrs. Betty Olson who is seated in a scientifically-designed chair at a desk positively guaranteed not to snag nylon hosiery—and the typewriter is an electric machine requiring only the least touch of her dainty finger.

members participate in the foreign exchange program by sponsoring visits to the United States by foreign women executives and educators.

Lincoln groups affiliated with the national federation are the Lincoln Business and Professional Women's Club, which was first organized in 1916 as a discussion group and joined the national organization in 1919 with Miss Emma Hedges as its first president; and the Lincoln Axis Club, organized in 1920 with Miss Margaret Lewis as president. The two Lincoln clubs have a combined membership of 200.

There are 37 clubs in the state with a membership of 1,800 Miss Hattie Steinberg of York, a past president of the state federation, now is recording secretary of the national organization.

Officers of the Lincoln B and PW Club are Miss Irma J. Warta, president; Dr. Johanna Ogden, vice president; Miss Selma Anderson, recording secretary; Miss Pearl Kettering, corresponding secretary; and Miss Olga Cherry, treasurer.

Axis Club officers are Miss Helen Stein, president; Miss Ferne Moran, vice president; Miss Clara Tolin, recording secretary; Miss Eudora Mallory, corresponding secretary; and Miss Eunice Willis, treasurer.

Axis Club Hears Panel

A panel discussion on "The Town We Want" was a feature of the program Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Axis Business and Professional Women's Club, held at the YWCA.

Serving as moderator was Eula Ree Mervin, and guest speakers were Archie J. Baley and Douglas Brogden. Members participating in the discussion were Geneva Wheeler, Gladys Anderson, Grace A. Troit and Mrs. Bertha Smith.

Guests of the club were Alvera Johnson, Martha Goehry and Jeannette Alden.

'On To Miami,' Is NU Rally Cry

By AL EDEE
Star Staff Writer

The Orange Bowl bubble of optimism invaded the University of Nebraska campus Friday night as more than 500 students rallied to cries of "On to Miami."

A bathing-suited "Miss Miami Beach," Karen Parsens, of Omaha, brought out an orange balloon which was broken by team captain Bob Wagner, NU guard.

The guard had his defenses down, however, when Miss Parsens swept into his arms for a resounding kiss.

Cow bells and drums greeted the petite NU freshman coed.

Athletic Director Bill Orwig said "instead of boos this game let's change them to cheers."

The football team is having an exam before 30,000 to 35,000 fans," he said.

"Let's get behind the team," Orwig said, and added "look out Kansas State here we come!"

He said John Bentley, athletic publicity director, told him that he had never seen a Nebraska team hit so hard in a Wednesday practice.

Wagner, team captain for the Kansas State game, told the students to "help us on."

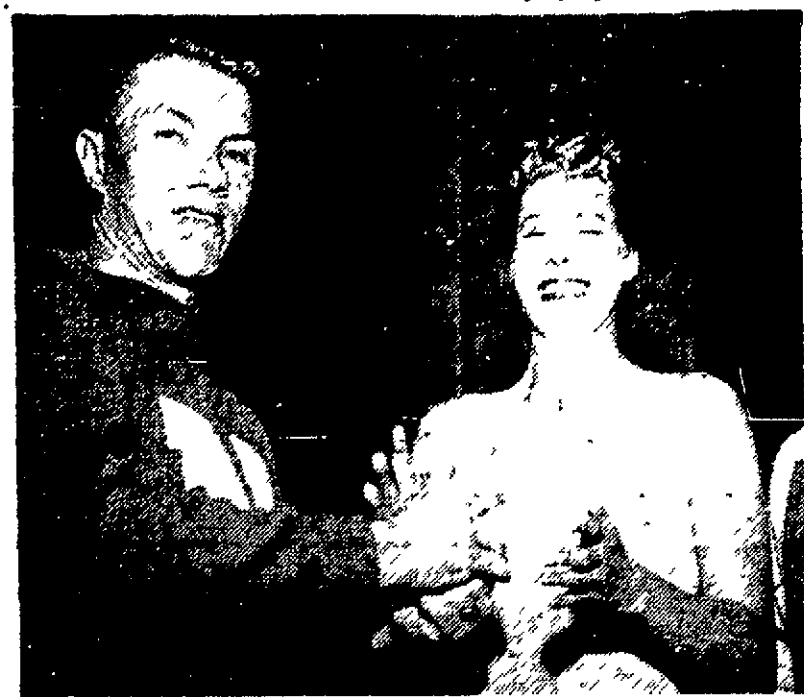

Shouts of "come on Big Red" and "go, go, go" echoed through the campus as the scarlet and cream clad cheerleaders bounced, danced and clapped up a football victory fever.

Fraternalities and sororities held boldly painted signs high in the air as each was called on to "give a cheer."

The rally broke up with the pep band blasting out with "There is No Place Like Nebraska."

There was nothing left to do but wait for the "Big Red" to come onto the playing field.

'Drought Hay' Aid Widened

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department broadened its emergency aid program for designated drought areas to encourage distressed farmers to buy a full winter's requirements of hay now. Heretofore, the help has been limited to a 60-day supply.

Under the program, the department pays part of the cost of transporting hay from surplus areas to be designated drought counties. The change will permit farmers to take full advantage of a 50 percent reduction in freight rates on hay made by railroads for a period ending Dec. 15.

States in the designated drought area include South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Tennessee, North Carolina, Texas and Arkansas.

N.M. Flood Toll Count Underway

ROS WELL, N. M. (AP)—The Pecos Valley flood, claiming five known dead and possibly eight more victims in torrents filling normally dust-dry arroyos, will run up a damage toll of between eight and ten million dollars, it was estimated Friday.

The cotton crop loss alone in the rich, irrigated farm lands along 80 miles of the Pecos will run between five and six million, agriculture officials said. Water still was standing Friday in the valley's flat fields where the cotton harvest was only one-third finished.

As loss assessment began, Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) appealed to the Budget Bureau in Washington to approve funds for Congress-authorized flood control dams on the Rio Hondo and Rocky Arroyo west and northwest of Roswell.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, after an aerial survey ranging from Carlsbad to Roswell, said he would report the damage toll to the federal government and ask for aid.

Check Artist Goes Back Behind Bars

Frank Trainor, 67, of Douglas, who couldn't shake his check-writing habits after serving a 90-day county jail term, has been sentenced to one year in the Penitentiary on a bad check charge.

Lancaster District Judge John Polk pronounced the penitentiary sentence in connection with a $575 no-account check to Montgomery Ward & Co. Taylor pleaded guilty to issuing the check on Sept. 30.

The court noted in the pre-sentence investigation report, brought "up to date" from the bad check conviction in February, that Trainor had about $30 worth of bad checks written since his release from county jail.

Line Damages $424 Across Jeary Land

Damages of $424 in the procurement of an easement across Mayor Clark Jeary's farm near Waverly for the Ashland-to-Lincoln water line has been reported by appraisers to the Lancaster County Court.

The "friendly" condemnation action by the City of Lincoln was necessary because of Jeary's official position, according to City Atty. Jack Pace.

The condemnation petition against land owned by the Lincoln Oil Company has been withdrawn.

NU 'Continuing' Policy Against Campus Drinking

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska told Inter-Fraternity Council members that he was not embarking on a "moral crusade," but rather reiterating long-standing policy on campus drinking.

The chancellor spoke at the council meeting following campus-wide distribution of a statement, "University of Nebraska Policy on Student Use of Alcoholic Beverages," released by the chancellor and the board of regents.

The statement was compiled by an administrative-student committee. Presidents of all campus organizations received the policy statements.

Dr. Hardin said during his summer trip through the state, he heard "disturbing" comments from parents, students, and prospective students on the matter of campus drinking. He added that some of these comments were unfounded and based on rumor, but that others were facts.

By bringing student attention to the existing rules concerning drinking, he said, the administration hopes to gain the cooperation and support of a responsible segment of the university population in removing the causes of the rumors which have disturbed Nebraska parents.

Inter-Fraternity Council members questioned the administration on the following specific instances:

Q. "What about private parties held in Lincoln homes where there is drinking?"

A. So long as the party is sponsored by individuals for individuals and not by an organization for the entire organization, the university has no jurisdiction over them, though this type of thing is discouraged. This would apply only in cases where parties are held off the campus.

Q. "What about drinking at parties sponsored by organizations, such as fraternities, sororities, clubs, etc?"

A. University regulations strictly prohibit drinking at parties of this type whether on or off the campus.

Q. What will happen to organizations guilty of violations of the university policy?

A. Presidents of the organizations involved will be called in for a conference with the administration. There is no set punishment for breaking the rules; each violation is considered on the individual characteristics of the violation.

70 Herefords Sell For $182 Average

Lincoln Star Special
BROKEN BOW, Neb. — Seventy head of fall and spring bulls and females sold for $12,722 at the annual sale of registered Hereford cattle by Walter Hannah of Brewster.

The entire offering averaged $182. Twenty-nine bulls averaged $202; 41 heifers averaged $167.

The top bull, Larry Aster, sold to Lyle Hughes of Ainsworth for $500. Hughes also bought the top female, Miss Larry 6th, for $400.

'Myths' About Press Are Attacked By Blumberg In Kiwanis Club Talk

"Destruction of myths" was the order of the day at the Kiwanis Club meeting Friday at the Chamber of Commerce. The program marked the Lincoln club's annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

Dr. Nathan B. Blumberg, professor of journalism at the University of Nebraska, discussed "Some Canards of the American Press" and said there are three fables concerning newspapers which are false.

These fables include the following:

1. You can't believe what you read in the newspapers.
2. Newspapers are controlled by big business.
3. The press has no special obligations or responsibilities.

In discussing each fable, Dr. Blumberg said of the first, "If we cannot believe what we read, if we fall for the demagogue's complaint that he is being discriminated against, then we will be well on our way to destroying the primary bulwark against despotism and tyranny which has been laboriously constructed from the time of the Declaration of Independence to the present."

On the second fable, he said, "The time to worry is not when newspapers carry a heavy volume of advertising, but when the newspaper is not carrying enough advertising to support it. A prosperous newspaper is an independent newspaper. A financially weak newspaper is susceptible to all kinds of pressures and enticements."

The view that the press has no special obligations or responsibilities is one that is not shared by any sizable segment of editors and publishers, Dr. Blumberg stated. "If the government curbs the irresponsible newspaper, it is only a matter of time until the bell

Shades Of '90s—Tandem Takes Cycle Prize

WAHOO, Neb. — Daisy didn't enter but it was a bicycle built for two that took top honors in the boys' cycle parade marking the kickoff of Fire Prevention Week here.

Larry Sherwood and Bob McMaster were co-pilots of the winning entry. The parade was sponsored by the Wahoo Volunteer Fire Department.

In the girls division it was Joan Rezek first. Other prize winners in the two divisions were Raymond Zahourek, Ervin Hajek, Rosemary Kipper, LeAnne Patzloff, Linda Dokuhl and Karen Turco.

Three hundred other children took no prizes but lived it up with free candy and rides on the fire wagons—courtesy of the Wahoo firemen.

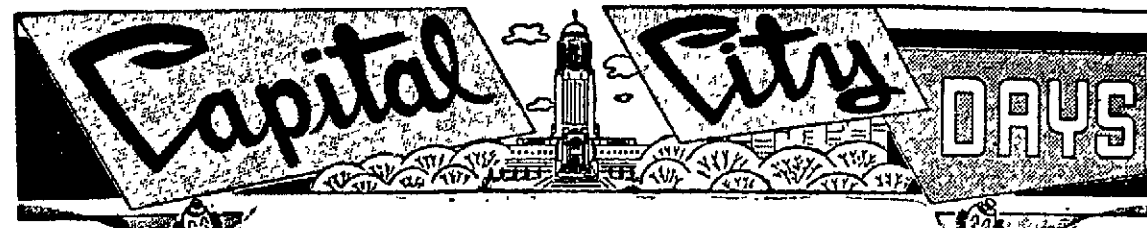

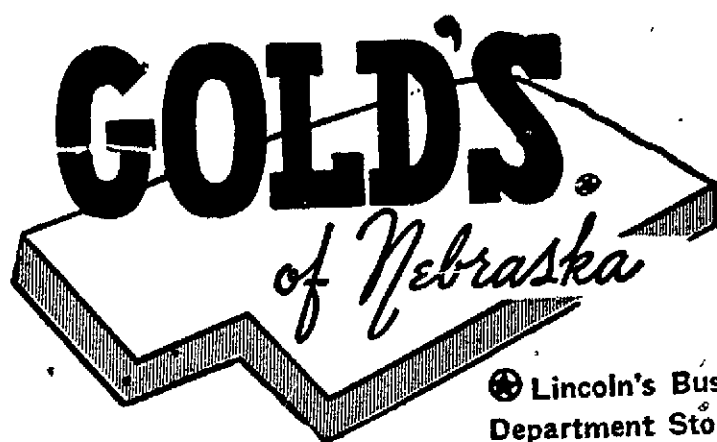

Following the parade the rescue and disaster unit of the Nebraska Motor Carriers Association was on display. The $65,000 vehicle is believed to be the largest and best equipped in the nation.

CHURCH PICKS 'LIVING LINK' IN HASTINGS

HASTINGS, Neb.—The First Christian Church here has named Mrs. Iris G. Sewell, missionary to Thailand, as its "living link" missionary.

Mrs. Sewell has been commissioned by the United Christian Missionary Society, the international board of missions and education of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church), and will be commissioned by the British Churches of Christ, which founded the mission in Thailand more than 50 years ago.

A native of Scotland, Mrs. Sewell was educated in England and the United States. She will specialize in education in her work in Thailand.
